

A COUNTRY JOURNEY GUIDE

OMAN / THREE CHAPTERS / ONE ROAD

Yalla East

Mountains. Water. Desert. Coast.

JOURNEY NOTES / 02

three chapters, one road.

Yalla East is a 10-day journey through northern Oman, following the road from Muscat into the Hajar Mountains before turning east towards canyon water, desert silence and the surf coast. It begins among mountain villages and high-altitude camps, then trades rock and cool air for Wadi Hawer's pools and the open dunes of Sharqiyah Sands. From there, the road reaches Al Ashkharah, where the pace slows and the days begin to move with the wind and swell. This is ten days of mountain roads, canyon swims, desert fires, saltwater mornings and remote camps - ending back in Muscat with sand still in the bags and plenty of road left in you.
